Health and Wellness Committee

In the United States, April is Sexual Assault Awareness Month (SAAM). It is observed to raise public awareness about sexual violence and educate on how to prevent it. We know that one month isn't enough to solve the serious issues of sexual violence, but we hope this generates prevention efforts.

Sexual violence is a broad term and includes: rape, incest, child sexual abuse, intimate partner violence, sexual exploitation, human trafficking, unwanted sexual contact, sexual harassment, exposure and voyeurism. It is a widespread problem, in that nearly 1 in 5 women in the U.S. have experienced it in their lives, and 1 in 67 American men have experienced it as well.

Anyone can experience sexual violence: children, teens, adults and seniors. Those who abuse or assault can be acquaintances, family, trusted individuals, or strangers. (Yes, the first 3 are the most common).

Good news! Prevention is possible and is happening. Just having conversations, attending programs and using tools to promote safety, respect and equality are helping. So, "Embrace Your Voice" and speak up - to promote awareness, but also to report the assault if it happens to you or a loved one.

The Tanzania Mission Committee

Thank you for supporting our S. Clyde Weaver sub coupon sale held in March. The TMC members hope you enjoy the convenience of having coupons on hand for these delicious sandwiches. The coupons are good through November 17, 2018 (S. Clyde Weaver Stores are closed on Sundays.) We will let you know in next month's Herald the profits from the sale that will be sent to Busoka Lutheran Church and the orphans. The TMC also thanks Thrivent Lutheran for providing $250 to help defray the costs.

New Members

We give thanks for the new members who have joined the St. Peter's family this Spring. We welcome several families who took part in our Spring New Member class. Please take a look at their pictures on the kiosk in the Narthex and Family Life Center and be sure to say hello. In fact, invite them to something—Sunday School, an Easter service or an upcoming youth event. Everyone was new at one time, and needs a friendly “hello!”

Tithe.ly: A New Way To Give

Beginning this Easter, St. Peter's has a new way to give charitably. It's called Tithe.ly -- as in tithing your income as a way to give back to God for all God has given you. You know about traditional giving -- you see it first hand every time we pass the offering plate. Tithe.ly lets you give whenever you feel called -- easily, securely, and faithfully.

Simply visit stpeterslutheran.org/give on your phone, tablet, or computer to give a gift immediately, or take a moment to set up a recurring gift on a schedule that works for you. You can give whenever and wherever as a way to faithfully respond as God's stewards. You can easily control how much you want to give and when, and change your recurring gift at any time. Your contributions will be recorded on your church giving statement.

Digital giving is a great tool for supporting the everyday ministries of the church, and a timely one for when we need to respond quickly to a need in our greater community.

After a thorough search of digital giving platforms, our Stewardship Committee recommended Tithe.ly, which was endorsed by our Finance Committee, and blessed by the Church Council. Tithe.ly has also been endorsed by the ELCA as a preferred vendor for digital giving.

If you have signed up to use Simply Giving for your recurring donations, those donations will continue to be processed. If you'd like to switch your giving over to Tithe.ly, you will need to contact the church office to cancel your Simply Giving payments.

You can visit stpeterslutheran.org/give and sign up to give with your credit or debit card, or electronic funds transfer.

God is active here and now in this place, and we're called to faithfully respond to God's call in the 21st century. Tithe.ly helps us give and serve with 21st century means. Visit stpeterslutheran.org/give and give it a try today!

Prayer Chain Ministry

From Your Prayer Chain.....

DID YOU KNOW your Prayer Chain averages 10+ requests a week? These can be anything from “safe travel and protection” for someone that is traveling (especially long distance), to “good results” for a medical procedure/test, to “comfort for a family/person for an unexpected illness or even death”, to prayers for discernment for an “issue known only to that person” to anything else someone would like brought before God in prayer. While the Prayer Chain does appreciate updates on how someone is doing, it isn't necessary. ALL requests, no matter what they are, are treated confidentially and with respect. April is also the month the Prayer Chain lost one of it's first co-leaders, Joan Ralston, whom we honor each month with her favorite scripture “Be Still and know that I am God”. Psalm 46:10

Poem Prayer for April 2018

By: Janice Riegel,

St. Peter's Prayer Chain

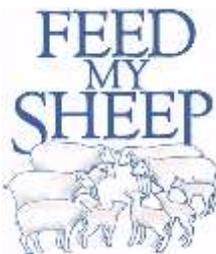

My Special Spring

As I walk along that garden path
Where I played once as a child
I see remnants of the melting snow
I think I'll sit and rest awhile.

The glistening rays of sunlight
Fall gently on my face
They envelop my whole body
Like God's comforting embrace.
I must sit and think awhile.

The blooms of new borne flowers
Poke their heads above the ground
They usher in the early Spring
With a sweet scent all around.
I think I'll sit and pray awhile.

Throughout our harried lives, dear Lord,
where we're pressed to meet our needs,
May we find that secret somewhere
That is quiet and so serene
To come and lay our sorrows, our burdens, and our cares
At the feet of Christ, our Savior, who with us is always there.

ST. PETER'S LIBRARY IS FOR YOUR BENEFIT!

10 Benefits of Reading: Why You Should Read Every Day*

1. Mental Stimulation – Studies have shown that mental stimulation can slow the progress (or even prevent) Alzheimer's and Dementia.
2. Stress Reduction – No matter how much stress you have in your daily life, stress disappears when you lose yourself in a great story.
3. Knowledge – The more knowledge you have, the better equipped you are to tackle any challenge you may face.
4. Vocabulary Expansion – Being articulate and well-spoken is of great benefit for any stage in life.
5. Memory Improvement – Every new memory you create creates new synapses (brain pathways) and strengthens existing ones which assists in short-term memory recall as well as stabilizing moods!
6. Stronger Analytical Thinking Skills – Have you ever been able to solve a mystery novel before finishing the book? If so, you were able to put critical and analytical thinking to work by taking note of all the details provided and sorting them out to determine "whodunit."
7. Improved Focus and Concentration - In our internet-crazed world, attention is drawn in a million different directions at once as we multi-task through every day. When you read a book, all your attention is focused on the story—the rest of the world just falls away, and you can immerse yourself in every fine detail you are absorbing!
8. Better Writing Skills – Exposure to published, well-written works has a noted effect on one's own writing, as observing the cadence, fluidity, and writing styles of other authors will invariably influence your own work.
9. Tranquility – In addition to the relaxation that accompanies reading a good book, it's possible that the subject you read about can bring immense inner peace and tranquility. Reading spiritual texts can lower blood pressure and bring a great sense of calm, while reading self-help books have shown to help people suffering from certain mood disorders or mild mental illness.
10. Free Entertainment – Though many of us like to buy books, they can be quite pricey. Use your local or church library and bask in the glory of the countless books available to you for free!

Prayers Requested for United Lutheran Seminary

St. Peter's rostered leadership requests your prayers for our United Lutheran Seminary (formerly Gettysburg Seminary and Philadelphia Seminary) community. In the month of February, a leadership conflict arose around the seminary president, the Rev. Dr. Theresa Latini, and her past involvement more than fifteen years ago as the executive director of a Presbyterian Church organization called OneByOne. This organization encouraged gay persons to change their identity or resist same-gendered relationships. Dr. Latini's past connection with this OneByOne organization was not revealed to the Board of Directors as part of the call process for President Latini, but has come to light in recent months. In more recent years, Dr. Latini has been a strong supporter of the LGBTQIA+ community and has renounced the reparative/conversion therapy OneByOne practiced. Dr. Latini's involvement in OneByOne predated the ELCA's 2009 decision to fully endorse candidates and pastors in "committed, accountable same-gender relationships." This situation raised questions and concerns about the viability of the current seminary leadership. United Lutheran Seminary (ULS) is a Reconciling in Christ seminary which embraces full support for LGBTQIA+ individuals in seminary education and in rostered ministry.

During the early days of the month of March, the United Lutheran Seminary Board of Trustees gathered to hear the concerns about Dr. Theresa Latini's past work and concerns over communication and transparency within the seminary community. During this time the board underwent a series of listening sessions with various seminary community groups including staff, alumni, current students, and voices from the LGBTQIA+ community.

On March 14 the United Lutheran Seminary Board of Trustees met and made a number of commitments that they see as integral to moving forward. With a concern for the health of the seminary several initial steps will take place including the involvement of pastoral and behavioral health services available to the community, hiring a specialist focused on community reconciliation, and bringing an outside audit focused on diversity, equity and inclusion. During the March 14 meeting the Board voted to end Dr. Theresa Latini's position as President of the United Lutheran Seminary. At this time Bishop James Dunlop has been named as Acting President. His responsibilities as the Bishop of the Lower Susquehanna Synod will be adjusted and shared with staff in order for him to take on this role. A search for an interim president for United Lutheran Seminary will begin in the near future.

For more detailed information about the United Lutheran Seminary's recent decisions we encourage you to go to the United Lutheran Seminary's webpage. The following links will send you to official releases from the board <https://unitedlutheranseminary.edu/uls-board-letter-march-14th/> and a response from Acting President Bishop James Dunlop <https://unitedlutheranseminary.edu/pastoral-letter-dunlop/>

The news about the seminary and leadership changes is hitting the wider news cycle, and we have found this story by the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette to be a helpful resource. <http://www.post-gazette.com/local/region/2018/03/06/Lutheran-seminary-faces-leadership-crisis-over-president-s-past-LGBTQ-beliefs/stories/201803060124>
Currently there is a high level of anxiety, grief, and in some places, conflict, among faculty, staff, students, alumni and rostered leaders. Your rostered leadership here at St. Peter's requests prayers for healing, trust, repentance and forgiveness for the seminary community.

-- Pastor Craig, Pastor Sarah & Sister Dottie

Pastor's Letter

“Core studies” is a body of courses that form a foundation upon which specific degree programs may be built. “Core muscles” are those muscles that support your spine, the structural center of your body. “Core competencies” are those key skills that allow someone to fully engage the various responsibilities of a job or task. “Core values” are those fundamental beliefs and principles that guide behavior, practice and policies in an organization. One year ago we dipped our congregational toe into a consideration of the core values that defined us as a congregation. More than 300 of you completed a Palm Sunday survey to identify the core values you saw as essential for life here at St. Peter’s. This was the first collective step we took in beginning the process of crafting a new mission statement and vision statement.

Since that time, we scored and summarized the 300+ Core Values surveys that were returned. We had a series of congregational gatherings to allow some information discussion around what those values looked like from a biblical perspective. We formed a Mission Statement Draft Team (MSDT). That team studied strategies for conceptualizing a congregational mission statement, and then created a first draft of a potential statement based on the top six core values that the congregation identified in the core values survey we took. That statement was then shared with church members who gathered for a fall Town Hall Meeting, with break out groups offering critique, affirmation and suggested amendments to the statement. The MSDT then re-gathered to review all the Town Hall data, identify broadly supported amendments, and amend the statement as needed. The current statement that is the product of this nine-month process is:

The next stage in the process is to start work on the Vision Statement which will begin to flesh out what that core statement of mission will look like in practical and concrete terms here at St. Peter’s. Our Vision Statement will seek to inspire our congregation to pursue unique and present ministry challenges which grow out of our mission statement and core values. We have enlisted the help of our church committees to reflect on the ministries they champion, and begin feeding those ministry hopes and dreams to the MSDT for use in the formation of a first draft vision statement.

To help re-stir the pot of missional and visionary thinking in our congregational life, your pastoral staff will host an Easter Sermon Series on the six core values that were the top six identified by the congregation. Our hope is to give you some food for thought around each of these values, in an attempt to stimulate your thinking around what defines our congregational life as “Easter people” ... people defined by the resurrection of Jesus. The schedule looks like this:

April 8 – How we “Love God” by WORSHIPING (using John 20:19-31)

April 15 – How we “Love God” by FOLLOWING (using Luke 24:13-35)

April 22 – How God “Makes Disciples” in our GATHERING (using John 10:11-18)

April 29 – How God “Makes Disciples” in our LEARNING (using John 15:1-8)

May 6 – How we “Love Our Neighbor” by SERVING (using John 15:9-17)

May 13 – How we “Love Our Neighbor” by INVITING (using John 17:6-11,15-19)

We hope to see you often in April and May as we explore together who we are as the people of God in this place and at this time. Until then, I'll ...

See you in Church ...

Pastor Sarah's Message

Happy Easter!

The other day I was humming to myself a contemporary Christian tune. The lyrics include the verse:

Taking my sin, my cross, my shame
Rising again I bless Your name
You are my all in all
When I fall down You pick me up
When I am dry You fill my cup
You are my all in all

This is part of our Easter promise—God promises that in the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus somehow all of our junk is wiped clean. Jesus takes away our sin, our places of death, and our shame. With each new day we can rise again with the blessed assurance of Jesus' promise that God is with us, and will be with us now to eternity.

Remember that one of the great gifts that Jesus gives to us is the Holy Spirit, which fills us up and gives us the strength, the light, and the will to follow Jesus' path in our world. How do you experience the promise of God in your life? How do you experience it at St. Peter's?

Mission Statement and Core Values

I hope that you have heard some conversation about a new mission statement for our church's ministries. The Mission Statement Draft Team and the pastors thank you for the ways that you have been part of the conversation—particularly at the Town Hall meeting last Fall. The proposed mission statement is:

Building a community of faith by God's grace

There are core values that are foundational to the truth of this statement and point to the vision of the church. The core values include:

Worshipping Following Learning Gathering Serving Inviting

These six core values speak to how we witness God's presence in the many ministries of St. Peter's and point to the ways Christ is leading us into the future. Recently, the Mission Statement Draft Team reached out to our 24 standing committees and asked them to weigh in on where they see their ministries functioning under the six core values. The committees are also providing input to where they see God's work in their ministry and where they hope to grow in faith.

During the month of April we'll begin a sermon series featuring the six core values proposed for our congregation. Here's a sampler of questions to think about before the series begins on April 8th.

Why do we worship? What part of worship most strongly connects you to God's presence?

What does following Jesus look like in your life?

What are the ways that God gathers us and why is community so important at St. Peter's?

In what areas are you learning something new about your relationship with God?

In your experience, how is serving an important part of your faith?

What are some ways that God invites you to have faith? Are we inviting to others?

It's our hope that this mission and vision work will direct us and lead us to answer God's call in our community. We are excited to see how God's Easter promise finds new life and creates new ways for God's work to be realized through you, me, and our family of faith.

In Christ's light,

Pastor Sarah

Letter From the Vicar

Erős vár a mi Istenünk! [A Mighty Fortress is our God!]

During the Easter Vigil the Alleluias will be brought back and we will be rejoicing on Easter Sunday that Christ is risen! We have so much to be thankful for in that it is through Christ that our sins are forgiven, not just one time, but for eternity! What a gift! But think back to the actual time of events over 2,000 years ago, and how the death and crucifixion of Christ was first perceived by his loved ones, disciples, and other followers. Even though Jesus had told his disciples that he would defeat death and rise in three days, they initially did not believe it would happen after Jesus was executed (John 20:9). Instead, they were in shock, confused, and afraid in addition to being in grief. We also have Mary Magdalene crying at the open tomb of Jesus, thinking that his lifeless body had been stolen (John 20:11-15). How often did we read in Scripture that Jesus scolded his disciples for not having enough faith and not comprehending his foretelling of his own death and resurrection? Had all of them completely understood Jesus and had complete faith that he would indeed defeat death, they instead would have been happy and praising God upon seeing the open and empty tomb. As we all know from Scripture, they were not. Eventually, after the appearances of Jesus shortly after his resurrection, they all did come around to seeing that Jesus indeed defeated death. Thomas in particular was hesitant to believe in the resurrection unless he was given concrete proof by seeing and touching Jesus' wounds himself (John 20:24-29). How often are we sometimes skeptical like "doubting Thomas?" Are there folks who will only believe with concrete evidence like Thomas demanded?

As we approach Easter Sunday, we will go through Holy Week—the most sacred time of the year for Christianity—to commemorate and remember the last week of Jesus' life on earth. The greatest focus of the week is the Passion and Resurrection of Jesus Christ and the events that led up to it. Although Thomas did get his concrete evidence, we today rely on eyewitness accounts seen in Scripture, historical records, and our faith, as well as Jesus' own words as recorded in the gospels. Let us all re-examine our faith as the Lenten season ends and Easter approaches so that we can erase whatever doubts we may have. Jesus himself says, according to John 20:29, that Blessed are those who have not seen and yet have believed.

Intern Project

The series of four Crosspoints classes, under the umbrella title Co-Existing with World Beliefs, was held during late February and early March. I sincerely hope that those who attended all or some of the sessions found the classes useful and enlightening. I especially want to thank all of the folks who volunteered to partake in an online survey of my project.

Blessings to you all!

From the Director of Music

Feeding the Soul

Alleluia! Christ is risen indeed! Alleluia!

It's that time of year when we celebrate Jesus' resurrection and triumph over death. In Christ Jesus Lay in Death's Strong Bands, one of our great Easter hymns, Martin Luther writes: Die Schrift hat verkuendigt das, Wie ein Tod den andern frass. This literally translates to: Scripture has proclaimed how one death ate the other. What an image! Furthermore, the word frass is used to describe how animals eat. So, Christ's death on the cross and subsequent resurrection was so powerful, that all sin and death in the world have been gobbled up. Talk about table manners!

For sure, this central belief about Christ's saving death on the cross is of the utmost importance. After all, we do spend 7 out of 52 Sundays celebrating this victory. Lately, I've also been thinking about another kind of eating that happens on Sunday morning, the food we feed our souls with the hymns we sing. Our Lutheran heritage places strong symbolism in the act of singing on Sunday morning. Similarly, we Lutherans tend to give great thought to what we sing on Sunday morning. How can the words and melodies we sing shape our beliefs? Below are some thoughts excerpted from an article by John Witvliet entitled, "Soul Food for the People of God."

Music as Spiritual Nourishment

Singing together acts in protest of the solitary moments in life. Whether physical or emotional suffering, dealing with the death of a loved one, or other moments of despair or lament, singing together sends the message that the community builds each other up. Singing good music together also inoculates us from spiritual disease, for example, religious experience as a candy-coated happiness and bliss. The mental imagination, physical exertion, and sculpting of emotional space that occurs when we sing all play a part in providing our souls with the nutrients they need to tackle the difficulties of life.

Liturgical-musical Diets

We have a limited number of songs we can sing in a given year and a limited number of songs we can collectively remember. Of course, we've been told that a varied diet is the key to being healthy; the same is true of music. We should sing our thanksgivings, supplications, and laments. We should narrate the Christian story: creation, fall, Christ's birth, teaching, suffering, death, resurrection, ascension, the sending of the Spirit and the coming of the kingdom of God. We should sing about a range of Christian teachings: social justice, evangelistic witness, and prayer. We should sing from a range of cultural locations and ethnic communities (in both time and space), to form us in the native language of the many parts of the holy, catholic church. We should sing the songs that form our own cultural identity.

Feeding as an Event

Eating is social and so is singing on Sunday morning. The point of eating together is the relationship, not the food. Similarly, the point of worship is God. The point of liturgy is to enact the relationship we have with God in Christ through the work of the Holy Spirit. The date doesn't exist for the food, and worship doesn't exist for the music.

Liturgical-musical Taste, Liturgical-musical Etiquette

Appropriating food well requires skills, cultivating table etiquette and good taste. We need to try new things, make judgments about theological soundness, and have discipline to avoid simple self-gratification. Frank Burch Brown describes four aesthetic sins that apply to food and congregational song:

The Aesthete – All that matters is that the music be from the masters

The Philistine – All that matters is the translation into practical, moral, or religious terms

The Intolerant – All that matters is what I think is the best

The Indiscriminate – All is good regardless of lasting value or superficial appeal

The Eater and a Community for Eating

Music forges first-person plural experiences. Bonhoeffer writes, "It is the voice of the Church that is heard in singing together. It is not you that sings, it is the Church that is singing, and you, as a member of the Church, may share in its song. Concert music values the proficiency and virtuosity of the soloist; in the context of church and liturgy, the highest value is enabling a group of musical amateurs to make music together.

In this Easter season, I pray that we may benefit from the great victory Jesus accomplished for us when his death ended death. I also pray that we may endeavor to share the feast of God's reign with all of God's children. God sets the feast and feeds us with soul food to last a lifetime and more.

Alleluia! Christ is risen indeed! Alleluia!

St. Peter's Preschool

Well, the winter weather finally seems to be behind us and we are once again able to get our preschoolers outside on the Playground and on the fields for Soccer Shots! It's a beautiful sign of Spring to see the kiddos practicing teamwork and fair play while sharpening their very early soccer skills. Soccer Shots sessions are held on Friday afternoon, so be on the lookout for the children and their coaches outside. Use extreme caution while driving through the parking lot as children may be crossing to the fields with their coaches.

In light of recent events involving schools and churches, we remain committed to ongoing security protocol that has been in place to consistently provide an atmosphere of security for all the children, families, staff and parishioners in our building on a daily basis. In addition to our scheduled fire drills, we have been conducting intruder drills for our preschoolers in a way that does not impact the innocent trust they have in their world. Our teachers have done an outstanding job in guiding children in a calm, loving, non-frightening manner, while still practicing the carefully implemented protocol which protects them. We ask you all support us in a very simple way: Please be sure to keep all doors to the building locked during preschool hours and Do Not open the door for anyone. It is the easiest and most basic step we can take to ensure the environment is safe and secure for all in the building. Be alert to any suspicious activity in the parking lot or building and report to the office anything that seems out of the ordinary. As a church community, it is imperative that we work together to ensure the well-being and safety of everyone in our St. Peter's family.

Our preschool classes for 2018/19 have again filled extremely quickly this year. We have 125 children already registered for the September, 2018 school year. It's a wonderful feeling to look ahead to a very successful year of enrollment. We have a few morning or afternoon spots still open, as well as some Tendercare openings (for 2 and 3 year olds) in the mornings. It will be an exciting upcoming year for us if we can fill every spot we have available (about 160) It's a compliment to our outstanding teaching staff who continue to do their great work with passion, creativity and dedication. I thank them every day!

Happy Spring everyone!

Camp Corner

Summer camp registrations are happening right now! Pick up a camp brochure and see who is signed up for Nawakwa and Kirchenwald at the camp bulletin board outside of the Nursery. From Day Camp to Classic Camp to Adirondack Backpacking to Equestrian Week, there are numerous opportunities for kids to get outside and learn about God's magnificent creation this summer. Nawakwa and Kirchenwald will both be open Sunday, April 8, from 2:00-4:30 p.m. Take an afternoon to explore the camps! Joy and Lyle Hosler will be at Nawakwa if you want to join them. <https://www.lutherancamping.org/>

St. Peter's is offering $75 to each kid camper from church and $100 to each family attending a full week of Family Camp ($50 for half week). Contact Joy & Lyle (joy@hoslerfamily.net; 717-560-4753) with any questions about camp programming or costs. Contact Sister Dottie for summer camp scholarships.

There are spring activities at camp too! The Men's Retreat at Kirchenwald, April 27-28, is a great fellowship opportunity. Get your hands dirty with on-site service projects, break a sweat with some athletic competition, test your mind though a team engineering challenge, and join in fellowship and Bible study in a faith-based environment. The retreat runs from 7pm on Friday until 4pm on Saturday. Talk with Lyle Hosler or Pastor Sarah if you're interested!
