Maurielle Courtois
Niamh McConnell
Alexandra Parise

Ryan Armitage

Confirmands and their families will gather for a breakfast in the Confimands’ honor at 9:15 a.m. in the Cafe on the Day of Confirmation. They will receive their certificates of confirmation at that point, a gift from St. Peter’s, and will also have their Confirmation Class picture taken. We ask you to pray for these young men and women, as they renew their proclamation of faith in God our maker and redeemer.

Dates to Remember

Our Summer worship times change in May. Beginning May 26th our worship times will be 8:00 a.m. and 9:45 a.m. Traditional Worship; and 9:45 a.m. New Day Praise

Worship. Sunday School ends on May 19th. These times will be in effect until September. We look forward to seeing you at church!

Catechism Bee

On Sunday, May 5th, you are invited to join Pastor Ross and his 9th Grade Catechism Class for their annual Catechism Bee. This battle of “faith wits” pits an elite-crack team of 9th graders against their older and memory-impaired parents. Questions come from Luther’s Small Catechism, The Lutheran Handbook, and the Bible. Join us and see how much you remember from your Confirmation years. We will meet in the Youth Lounge from 9:15-10:15 a.m.

Congregational Meeting

Please note that we will have a Congregational meeting on June 2nd immediately following the 8:00 a.m. service to address the Constitutional Amendments.

Name Tag Sunday – May 5th

Remember that Sunday, May 5th will be Name Tag Sunday. Do you have something bright and shiny you can wear for the Easter season? If not, no fear, we'll have plenty of generic name tags on a narthex table for you to use. (But come on ... a gold name tag would be A – MAZ – ING!!! Make it easy for yourself and others to greet those people about whom you know much (where they sit in church, how many kids they have, how they sing hymns, etc.), but for whom you may not yet know their name.

Sacrament of Holy Baptism

The Sacrament of Holy Baptism will next be celebrated on Sunday, May 12th, at the 10:45 a.m. traditional service and Sunday June 30th at the 9:45 a.m. traditional service. Interested persons should speak with one of the pastors.

Internship Update

Please be aware that St. Peter's has not been assigned a seminary intern for the 2019-20 year. We have had a remarkable run of almost twenty interns in a row here, but the process never guarantees a match for every congregation every year. The process had some complications to it on the seminary end this year, and while that may have played a factor in the assignment process, no congregation is ever guaranteed that an intern will be placed with them. So as we say good bye to Vicar Nancy at the end of June, our internship ministry will take a year off. We will use this unexpected opportunity to reflect on the program here and the place and value of internship in our broader congregational and staffing landscape.

Pastoral Internship

We offer our heartfelt thanks to this year's Intern Committee (Lois Benton, Joe Geesey, Geoff Groff, Becky Lutz, Karen Peiffer, Kelie Root, Bill Sassaman and Mike Wildasin,) and to all our intern committees over the years for their guidance, support and feedback to our interns. We also extend a special thanks to our chair, Neil Snyder, for the consistent and ever present support and companionship he has offered to this program ... to each of our interns ... and to Pastor Craig as the staff supervisor of the ministry.

WE NEED YOU!

The St. Peters AV-Lighting Team is seeking a few new members to join our dedicated crew.

Are you looking for a valuable way to serve? Does having a direct role in the congregation's enjoyment of the worship services appeal to you? Are you looking for a quiet place to nap during the sermon? OK, forget that last one.... But, we are looking for some additional members of the Audio/Lighting team to support both the 8:00 and 10:45 a.m. traditional worship services. It's actually a simpler job than you think. We'll train you before you are deployed. And you'll be filling a critical role in worship that everyone relies on. If you'd like to learn more or want to volunteer, contact either of the following:

Bill Schlener at billschlener@comcast.net

Bob Preston at rpreston1609@comcast.net.

Or just see one of us in church. Please consider joining us.

Church Council

Please note that Council formally accepted the resignation of Samantha Cuascut, Director of Children's Ministries, effective May 19, 2019. We wish Samantha continued success in her future endeavor.

There is an opening for Director of Children's Ministries beginning June 5th. If interested, please contact Sister Dottie.

Volunteer Steward News

The rostered leaders are excited to bring you news about the newly created part-time position of Volunteer Steward. The Volunteer Steward works with staff and church leaders for the purpose of connecting church members to congregation and broader community service opportunities that match up with their interests and spiritual gifts.

This position is made possible by the generous donation from a congregational member who has promised to fund this position for two years. The Volunteer Steward will be connected to the Stewardship Committee and be overseen by Pastor Sarah Teichmann. Candidates for the position were interviewed by representatives of the Stewardship Committee and Human Resources Committee. An offer for the position was made to Betsy Linn, and she accepted. We are truly excited to have Betsy on board as the new volunteer steward.

As this type of position hasn't existed in the St. Peter's ministry, the job description took some time to create. With input from the pastors, the stewardship committee, and other local churches and agencies who have a similar position on staff, a description for the position was created. Some aspects of this new position are listed below.

- ◇ Help members identify their spiritual gifts and where those gifts might be used.
- ◇ Foster an environment fueled by expressions of time, talent and spiritual gifts.
- ◇ Help create a culture of gratitude for those who serve.
- ◇ Work with leadership to connect volunteers to the ministry goals within the church and wider community.
- ◇ Develop guidelines of effective recruitment practices for the use of ministry leaders.

Betsy Linn will begin her duties in the role as Volunteer Steward during the summer with some preliminary work with the staff and will connect with lay leaders as Fall approaches. She is excited to be in the role of Volunteer Steward. Your prayers for new beginnings, building relationships, and the Spirit's work in our midst are greatly appreciated. Let's see what God is up to, how the Spirit gifts us, and how we may in turn be a blessing to the community!

Advocacy Corner with Sister Dottie

I had the opportunity to attend Ecumenical Advocacy Days in Washington DC from April 5th thru 8th. There were over 900 people from all over the country and all denominations.

Did you know....

- Many people in our country are still denied easy access to voting?
- We kill more innocent civilians with drone warfare than the intended targets?
- There are Palestinian refugee camps in Lebanon and Jordan as well as Palestine and these camps have been in existence for generations leaving many Palestinians without hope or citizenship?
- Our Government has stopped all aid to Palestine, which affect Augusta Victoria hospital, supported by Lutheran World Federation, which affects medical care and treatment for Palestinians living in the West Bank?
- The Lutheran Church is involved in many different social justice arenas?

If you are interested in learning more about some of these issues and want to know how you can get involved in the Christian social justice movement, contact Sister Dottie at dottie.almoney@stpeterslutheran.org.

Global Missions Ministry

Lutheran World Relief and IMA World Health Unite!

Daniel Speckhard, President and CEO of LWR, has announced that LWR has joined forces with IMA World Health, a Christian humanitarian organization that provides solutions to health-related problems in the developing world.

Background: LWR is an international faith-based Lutheran-affiliated organization whose focus has historically been in helping rural communities in our global world develop productive, resilient and stable economies. It has also been world-renowned as a disaster-relief organization since the end of WWII. Because many of these rural communities are in remote areas of under-developed countries, there are often inadequate healthcare infrastructures available. Thus, illness and disease can go untreated, wiping out forward economic progress.

By joining together as one organization, LWR-IMA World Health will be able to work on both health-related problems as well as economic development in these same areas of the developing world. This united organization will continue to lead with Lutheran in the name, deeply rooted in the Lutheran tradition and ecumenically connected with others.

Several projects are already in the planning stages:

- Democratic Republic of the Congo – to help prevent spread of Ebola which threatens neighboring Uganda by providing protection supplies to health care facilities
- Haiti – to install water systems to ensure communities have access to clean, safe water
- Tanzania – Through LWR, farmers have learned better, more efficient ways to grow crops. With IMA they will partner with two major hospitals to improve patient care.

To learn more about this exciting new chapter in Lutheran World Relief development work, visit their website: www.lwr.org.

MAY is Melanoma/Skin Cancer Detection and Prevention Month

While May isn't the month we think of getting a sunburn, it is the beginning of the season where we will spend more time in the sun, and without protection, it can cause damage to our skin.

Skin cancer is the most common type of cancer in the United States. Ultraviolet (UV) radiation from the sun is the main cause of skin cancer. UV radiation can also come from tanning booths or sunlamps. The most dangerous kind of skin cancer is called melanoma.

The good news? Skin cancer can almost always be cured when it's found and treated early. Communities, health professionals, and families can work together to prevent skin cancer or detect it early on.

This May, spread the word about strategies for preventing skin cancer and encourage families and individuals to get involved. Here are just a few ideas:

- Make sure you put on sunscreen, and re-apply if you'll be in the sun, even for a hour
- Try to limit your time in the sun
- Wear a hat, to protect your head, ears and neck from too much sun
- Wear sunglasses to protect your eyes (yes, you can get melanoma of the eye)
- Encourage families to adopt these good habits together
- Motivate teachers and others to teach kids about the harm of UV radiation and why it's important to protect yourself

Blood Pressure Screening

The Addiction Ministry/Wellness Subgroup will be offering Blood Pressure Screening on Sunday, May 19th. The screenings will be offered before and after the 8:00 & 10:45 a.m. services. In addition, the Wellness Subgroup will offer a handout regarding tips for healthy eating.

Pastor's Letter

Dear Friends:

OK, let's have a "heart to heart" chat, shall we? I thought I asked you last month to pass along your observations about the topic of weekly communion? Maybe I was not clear enough. I know you have some opinions, because I am hearing them second and third hand through the grapevine. I would love to hear them from you directly. You know me. You know that I will honor and respect your perspectives and viewpoints, whether they are in synch with my views or not. We've been down this road a number of times in the past on various issues. I've always been committed to being a listener. But unless you speak to me, I cannot listen. So in the meantime, while you craft an email to me or call to set up an appointment, I'll offer some observations on a few topics I have heard through the "grapevine." They may not be focused and accurate because ... well ... because I have had to hear them indirectly. But I'll give it a shot based on what I think I have heard.

Is weekly communion a done deal? No. You know me better than that. We're exploring it. We are trying to take seriously the call to embrace a weekly engagement of the real presence of our Lord in bread and wine, as a core expression of our faith. But it is not a done deal. Your pastors (Pastor Sarah and I) could institute weekly communion tomorrow if we wished. We are entrusted with complete control over the sacramental life of the congregation. But we also cherish your feedback and your input on this ongoing discussion. So no, this is not a done deal. We are interested in hearing what you think, no matter where you fall on the issue. But ... we ... cannot ... read ... minds. Talk to us ... email us ... let us know what you think.

Is the experimental period of weekly communion during the Easter season in actuality a sneak attack in which we will start weekly communion and never stop it? No. The season of Easter ends on Pentecost Sunday and the following Sunday is the festival of The Holy Trinity. That Sunday will conclude our "experiment" of weekly communion this spring. We felt the Easter season was a somewhat short and quite appropriate time to experiment with weekly communion. As of the first Sunday after Holy Trinity Sunday we will return to our current alternating schedule of Holy Communion.

I do not intend to sound defensive. But I want to be clear. This is a process. We are exploring the practice of weekly communion, because it is a core part of our denominational identity. We are exploring it because it offers us the clearest expression of grace that God has made available to us on an on-going basis. It is not a "done deal." It is an exploration. We want to hear your reactions to the Easter season experiment of weekly communion. Whether you are a regular worshiper, or an altar guild member, or a communion assistant, or a lector, or an usher. In short, if you're in the building on a Sunday morning, we are interested in your observations and reactions to this "experiment."

I hope to hear from you, even as I expect to

See you in Church ...

St. Peter's Book Club

Please contact Mary Ann Frontz at mafrontz@verizon.net if you have any questions.

Pastor Sarah's Message

Greetings this Easter season as we continue to celebrate the risen Christ in our midst!

This can be a busy time of year. A few years ago, a parent told me that May is the busiest month of the year. There are so many places to be, so many projects to accomplish, so many deadlines to fulfill. I think that even in our activities of enjoyment like gardening and weekend trips we can somehow feel rushed. "I gotta do this!" "We have to get this!" "Did we finish this?"

It's during these rushed times where I feel like I don't have enough (e.g. time, details, patience, etc) that I try to practice a bit of centered prayer and habits of gratitude. It's a NEW practice for me! In this new practice, I thought I would share an area of my life where I give thanks for the Lord's work in me and in the world.

Completion of a Clergy Leadership Program

During the summer of 2017 I was selected as a Fellow in the Clergy Leadership Program (CLP) of Central Pennsylvania. Over the course of two years I joined a cohort of leaders in the area and we attended regular seminars focused on inspiring participants to think creatively about our leadership role in the broader community. On May 6, 2019 the CLP will host a banquet celebrating the completion of the program.

During this time I have created good relationships with clergy in the area, and have also connected with leaders in the areas of government, media, health, and law. I'm grateful for the program and its leaders who invested time and resources to help further my pastoral development. I am also grateful to the St. Peter's staff who created space and time that allowed me to pursue this program. I believe that this program has molded who I am as a leader and that my involvement on a local board and strengthened ties with fellow clergy and leaders in the area are just a few fruits grown out of the program's objectives.

Cultivating Gratitude

This Spring I read the book The Gifts of Imperfection by Brene Brown. Throughout her book, Brown refers to the philosophy of letting go of who we think we're supposed to be and embracing who we are. In one of her chapters she addresses the issue of gratitude and joy. She writes that at one time she thought joyful people were grateful people because they had all that joy for which to be grateful. However in her research, she discovered that it is folks who practice acts of gratitude who experience joy more readily.

So friends, in what ways will you practice gratitude this month?

Some ideas... with the earlier rising sun, perhaps you can begin the day with a brief morning prayer of gratitude... or as the evening sets perhaps take a moment to journal about the people who make you smile, the food you have enjoyed, or the sense of peace you have experienced.

Blessings during this busy time of year,

Pastor Sarah

St. Peter's Hosting United Lutheran Seminary Events

During this month, St. Peter's will be hosting two United Lutheran Seminary events including the United Lutheran Seminary graduation on May 17 and Team Building for the 2019-2020 intern class on May 22. St. Peter's is geographically located between the two campuses at Philadelphia and Gettysburg, and it is an honor to be able to provide a hospitable space to host these events. The rostered leaders and staff offer prayers of blessing to the second graduating class of United Lutheran Seminary and to the new interns preparing for their ministry settings around the country.

From the Director of Music

This is the Feast

Grace and peace to you this Easter season as we celebrate the risen Christ.

One of the things I hear the most when the subject of communion comes up is just how special it is to people. It's clear that the meal of bread and wine that Jesus prepares for us is one of those moments in worship which transcends race, culture, socio-economic status, among others. It is at once a personal and communal experience full of meaning and expression.

This Easter Season, St. Peter's faith leaders are writing a bit about how we view ministry and worship in light of this meal of grace which Jesus has instituted. You'll find our thoughts at the beginning of the worship bulletin on the study page. One of the beautiful things about these writings is how varied the responses are about one subject.

From my vantage point, as the Director of Music at St. Peter's and a lifelong Lutheran, communion is one of those special places in the worship service where we have a chance to interact directly with God. Worship conducted in the Lutheran setting involves the people of God set around word, bath and meal. We read, preach, and proclaim God's word in spoken word and in song, but we also enact God's unbounded grace through the sacraments of baptism and communion where God welcomes all into the family of grace.

Sacraments, as the coming together of word and action, become signs to the people around us. When we break bread together and share the cup, or when we participate in baptism, all our actions point away from our sinful selves, instead pointing to the God of unbounded grace who will do anything to welcome the stranger. We do the sacraments because they are some of the "thin places" where God touches this world, challenges us to love more freely, and gathers God's children into one family.

So, what is special about communion to you? What do you think or pray about when you receive the bread and wine? Take the time to share some words you might use to describe the act of taking communion by going to <https://stpeterslutheran.org/2019/04/this-is-the-feast/> and leaving your thoughts. We'll collect responses over the course of the season of Easter and share our findings.

Until then, may the risen Christ continue to meet you this Easter Season.

OUR MISSION

Building a community of faith by God's grace.

“This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you.”

John 15:12

OUR VISION

St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church will show our love for God, our love for neighbors, and our desire to make disciples.

Because we love God, we will:

- Worship and pray together.
- Help each other develop a meaningful relationship with God.
- Model our faith to children, youth, and others.

Because we love our neighbor, we will:

- Serve one another, especially the unseen and underserved within our congregation.
- Support those in need in our Lancaster community and in the world through our ties with the Lower Susquehanna Synod and the Evangelical Lutheran Church of America.
- Love others boldly in a diverse and changing world, deepening relationships with our neighbors.

Because we desire to make disciples, we will:

- Seek to teach God's love through adult education, our programs for children and youth, and our preschool.
- Offer small groups that connect God's Word to our everyday lives and create communities of faith.
- Share the good news in creative and authentic ways with the St. Peter's family and with neighbors in our community.
